Alto Products Releases New 68RFE Reverse Drum Saver

Alto Products Corp has just released a new Drum Saver Kit for the Reverse Clutch Pack in the Chrysler 68RFE transmission.

Alto #128759 features G3™ Friction Clutches and the Alto Pocket Plate. The OE stack-up currently uses a single .068" steel plate that will eat into the Input Drum and cause fluid contamination. The Alto Pocket Plate is a new design that features a .169" footprint on the teeth to prevent this damage, with the friction mating surface remaining the original .068" thickness.

Please visit www.altousa.com for more information on this new kit and other items they offer.

Tech Pioneer Brings its Award-Winning Repair Shop Software to Entire Auto Aftermarket

For nearly 10 years, BOLT ON TECHNOLOGY has led a revolution in the auto repair industry, helping nearly 10,000 independent repair shops drive customer loyalty and reap higher revenues. Its Digital Vehicle Inspection reports, which give drivers the ability to see photos of their repairs and read technician notes on a mobile device, have transformed the repair shop-customer relationship. And its automatic text message service reminders, next-appointment scheduling and text-to-pay functions have helped keep service bays full and cash flow rolling.

"We've had tremendous success with independent auto repair shops, giving them the tools to add transparency and improve communications, giving customers peace of mind and keeping their repair bays humming while enhancing revenue," said Mike Risich, BOLT ON TECHNOLOGY's founder and CEO. "With the launch of NextGear, based entirely in the cloud, we can now help every sector of the auto aftermarket, whether you're fixing transmissions, replacing fenders, or servicing trucks, motorcycles, high-end imports or RVs."

From One Family to Another - TEMCO's New Ownership

The Haworth Family,
New Owners of Temco Industrial Inc

June of 2020 saw the change in ownership of TEMCO Industrial Inc from one family to another. For 40 years the Godfreys had owned and developed the parts washing business as an Oklahoma based family. Over that span, the company has sold thousands of spray wash cabinets across North America and always maintained manufacturing in USA using quality parts and UL/CSA components to build the best parts washer on the market coupled with superior customer service.

The Haworth Family decided to fulfill the American dream and purchase TEMCO after several years in the corporate world. Mark Haworth states “This is a perfect fit for me and my family as the company is based on a quality product and excellent customer service with a emphasis on manufacturing in the USA” The objective is to maintain the quality in manufacturing and excellent customer service while carrying an inventory of parts and detergents that customers can depend on.

TEMCO offers machines in 100% stainless steel in both the standard sizes and custom sizes. With years of experience in parts washing machine design we can build custom machines to fit all our customers needs.

Temco also carries a line of high-quality detergents that are specially blended for superior cleaning and longer life. We offer our AP Blend in 10lb, 25lb, and 50lb sizes and soon offering a special formulated aluminum cleaner that cleans those tough aluminum jobs that need superior cleaning without aluminum pitting issues.

Visit www.washparts.com for more information about Temco and their products and their ROI for the Automotive and Industrial markets.

Unitrans Launches New Web Site

In these changing times, it is more important than ever to keep innovating in order to adapt to the new challenges our industry is facing.

We are proud to announce that the Unitrans web portal is now up and running. Any transmission shop can now connect to our platform and thus get access to interactive transmission schematics, year/make/model searches for every part we have in inventory as well as get information on prices and availability.

This portal is the first of its kind for the transmission industry and we believe it will be a great tool to support our customers.

We are constantly adding new functionalities to the platform and we're looking forward to getting your feedback of your experience with the Unitrans Web Portal.
