

MOVING THE WORLD AHEAD INTO THE NEXT 50 YEARS

Today, we look forward to our next 50 years, providing auto techs across North America with the broadest vehicle parts catalog, groundbreaking parts search and order technology, and best-in-class distribution of quality OE and aftermarket parts.

Tom DeMille, Executive Vice President, Sales & Operations, adds, "In our next 50 years, the most important thing our hard-working team will deliver is customer confidence, and we'll do that by offering them the broadest parts inventory along with the technology that gets customers to the right parts quickly and easily."

As your repair shop looks ahead to the coming years, count on Transtar's continued support as we expand our parts selection, distribution network, and knowledge to evolve right along with your business.

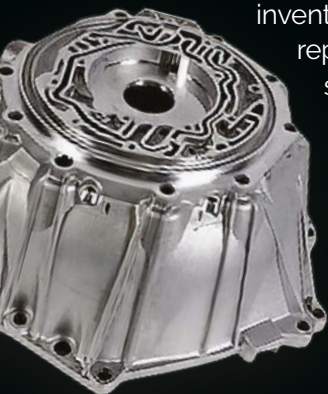

"Our mission of simplifying complex vehicle repairs goes beyond delivering quality parts...our customers need a dedicated parts partner."
